

The Alliance for Excellent Education, National Center for Learning Disabilities, and National Council of La Raza Present a Briefing

Personalized Learning: Meeting the Needs of Students with Disabilities and English Learners

Wednesday, May 4, 2016 • 1:30 – 3:00 p.m. (ET)

Alliance for Excellent Education, Gerard and Lilo Leeds Conference and Advocacy Center
1201 Connecticut Avenue, NW, 9th Floor, Washington, DC

Agenda

- 1:00 p.m. Registration and Refreshments
- 1:30 p.m. Welcoming Remarks
James Wendorf, Executive Director, National Center for Learning Disabilities
- 1:35 p.m. Defining Personalized Learning
Elizabeth Schneider, Chief of Staff and Senior Vice President for Strategic Initiatives, Alliance for Excellent Education
- 1:55 p.m. Personalized Learning: Opportunities and Implications for Students with Disabilities and English Learners
Lindsay Jones, Vice President, Chief Policy and Advocacy Officer, National Center for Learning Disabilities
Maria Moser, Senior Director of Teaching and Learning, National Council of La Raza
- 2:15 p.m. Panel Discussion: Voices from the Field
Lindsay Jones (moderator)
Maria Moser
David Chard, Dean, Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development, Southern Methodist University
Brian Stack, Principal, Sanborn Regional High School (NH)
- 2:40 p.m. Question and Answer Period
- 2:55 p.m. Closing Remarks
James Wendorf
- 3:00 p.m. Adjourn